Description

With an innovative engine setup, lots of luxuries, and fun performance attributes, the Azimut 77S proves the future is now.

This is a boat so nice I tested her twice. Well, maybe it wasn't quite like that. She's good, certainly—hey, just look at her—but she uses some pretty progressive propulsion technology, and unfortunately the first time out she couldn't quite deliver in the performance department. So the boat went back for a prop change, and then I went back to see if that made any difference. It did. Big smiles all-round.

Comes with 4 cabins, 4 baths plus crew cabin for 3 people
Full beam owner's cabin characterized by n*6 square windows on each side which naturally illuminate the environment and offer constant contact with the sea to guests, the owner's cabin on the starboard side of the ship it is characterized by a beauty cabinet, on the left side by two sofas and a coffee table. The bulkheads are white with a modern and elegant wrinkled effect, the flooring is light, some of the ceilings are in beige leather with visible stitching.
